OLD CITIZEN DEAD.

Andrew Woods died Friday night at the home of his son-in-law, Mr. Holbrook, this city. Interment was made on the following Sunday in the See burying ground, near this city.

The deceased was 83 years, 8 months and 8 days old. Death was caused by the infirmity of old age. He is survived by a widow, one daughter, Mrs. Holbrook, and two brothers, Rev. J. D. Woods, a well known Baptist preacher of Boyd county, and John Woods, of California. All these relatives were present at Mr. Woods' death. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. M. A. Hay, of this city.

CITY COUNCIL.

At the regular meeting of the City Council Tuesday night F. H. Yates resigned as member of the board and W. D. Pierce was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation. A. M. Hughes and J. Q. Leakey as a board of equalization for 1915. Upon motion the annual amount paid to the water works company was reduced from $1125 to $1000.

ARBOR AND BIRD DAY.

The NEWS has received from the Department of Education, and the committees of State Superintendent Barksdale Humbert, a handsomely illustrated copy of the book called "Kentucky Arbor and Bird Day." The name indicates the book treats of Kentucky trees and birds, and it is written in a very attractive and instructive way. The book also contains the words and music of several appropriate songs.

HALLOWE'EN.

Very little was done by way of "celebrating" this annual occasion. Aside from defacing some windows and littering front yards with rubbish and doing a few other things which were just as funny, nothing was done to mark the event.

CHURCH BAZAAR DEC. 11-12.

The ladies of the M. E. Church will hold a Christmas bazaar in the Brunswick hotel building Dec. 11-12. They will offer an unusually fine lot of things suitable for presents. They will also serve oysters, coffee, cake and ice.

LADIES' BAZAAR.

The ladies of the M. E. Church South will hold their Christmas bazaar on the 4th and 5th of December. Each lady of the church is requested to prepare some article for the same. The place will be mentioned later.

BAPTIST BAZAAR.

The ladies of the Baptist Church will hold their bazaar for the sale of Christmas articles on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 13 and 14, in the wholesale grocery house of Dixon, Moore & Co. They are noted for the quality of the various goods which they place on sale at these bazaars, and this reputation will be maintained on this occasion.

EPISCOPAL SERVICES.

The Rev. J. Howard Gibbons, of Ashland, will hold services at the M. E. Church, this city, on Tuesday evening, Nov. 17th, beginning at 6:30 o'clock. These services will be held on the third Tuesday evening of each month, and the public is cordially invited to attend.

CONGRESS RETAINS DEMOCRATIC CONTROL

Both Houses are Still in Harmony With President Wilson, by Reduced Majority.

The election leaves both houses of Congress in the hands of the Democrats, the Senate by an increased majority and the House by a plurality considerably reduced, but safe.

New York elected a Republican Governor and United States Senator. Ohio is very close in the Governor's race, with the Republicans having apparently won the Governorship and United States Senator. Prohibition lost in Ohio.

Sullivan, Democrat, in Illinois, claims the victory by 20,000 for the United States Senate. This claim is disputed by the Republican, Sherman. In Pennsylvania Pennrose, Republican, showed under both Palmer and Parlot, Democrat and Progressive, and the Republican candidate for Governor looked an easy winner, defeating Vance McClench.

One of the most noticeable features of the election was the falling off in the Progressive vote.

T. C. Rye, the Democratic nominee was elected Governor of Tennessee. Woman suffrage was defeated in six States.

MRS. MARTHA J. MAYNARD.

Mrs. Martha Jane Maynard spent a day last week with her cousin, R. T. Burns. She is nearly 85 years old but wonderfully preserved in mind and body. She is active as a girl and but for her snow-white hair would look like a young woman.

She was born on East Fork, near the mouth of Garner creek, then Lawrence county, now Boyd. In infancy her father moved to Louisa, where she resided until her marriage to Mr. Butler. They moved to Pikeville where she continued to reside until after the death of her second husband, Mr. Lindsey Maynard, well known in Sandy Valley.

She has children living in the far West. Unaccompanied by anyone she visited them last year, also returning alone after a good long stay with them. She walked from Mr. Burns' over to Fort Gay station carrying quite a grip, would allow no one to carry it for her.

Although quite limited in education, she is exceedingly well informed, especially in the Holy Scriptures. She is an old-fashioned red-hot Methodist and don't believe in the "new fangled worldly ways of serving the Lord," as she puts it. She is the oldest child of John L. Burns, known as "Uncle Doc," a full sister to Rev. James Harvey Burns, now deceased, but for over 50 years a leading member of the Western Virginia Conference of the M. E. Church South. She is half-sister to Mrs. Mary Fessenden, of this city. Her many friends hope she may reach the century mark, and she bids fair to do so.

PROHIBITION LAW PROHIBITS.

Since July 1 when the Prohibition law went into effect, 926 arrests have been made in seventeen of the principal cities of the state of which 295 had been for drunkenness. In the corresponding period in 1913 there were 1831 arrests of which 856 were for drunkenness. The largest number of indictments under the Prohibition law charging illegal sale of liquor were 70 in Kinnawha county and 63 in Fayette. More arrests have been made for drunkenness in Charleston than in any other five cities in the state.

LOGAN CIRCUIT COURT.

The October term of Logan Circuit Court is now drawing to a close. The term has been a busy one, a great volume of business having been disposed of in a short space of time. Among the cases settled were the following: W. H. Baker granted a divorce from Dora Baker; Stella Booth divorced from Ed Booth; Charley Madison found guilty of liquor law violation and fined $500 and sentenced to six months work on the roads; John Lowry pleaded guilty to selling liquor unlawfully and was fined $50 and given two months road work; Edie Kennedy pleaded guilty to selling liquor and drew $100 fine and two months in jail; Vance Thickett pleaded guilty to unlawful selling and was fined $50 and sentenced to six months on road work. Logan Democrat.

HAPPY HOMES!

On Friday and Saturday, November 6 and 7, Mr. George Lott, of the firm of Brant & Lott, Importers and makers of Clocks, Dressers and Furs, will be at Mr. Shannon's store. He will bring with him the very latest style developments. Come and see this collection of individual costumes by the greatest Paris dressmakers.

GOOD MISSIONARIES.

A number of Salvation Army people visited Louisa this week, holding street services three or four times. These worthy men and women are good missionaries, reaching a class which others do not seem to get in touch with. The Louisa visitors are good talkers and good singers, presenting the claims of the Gospel plain, ly and forcibly. The Army is doing a great work all over the world. They labor for the people, irrespective of creed or condition. Help them along.

SENATOR JOHNSON N. CAMDEN

GREAT RECORDS BEING MADE ON RIVER WORK.

The National Contract Company, in which Messrs. J. C. Thomas and H. A. Scholze, of Louisa, are stockholders and officers, continues to break records on the Ohio river. The company is now building its fourth lock and dam, which contracts amount to about one million dollars each. The last one is at New Richmond, twenty miles above Cincinnati. This work has been under the direct supervision of Mr. Thomas. It was started last spring and the progress made during the season surpasses all records heretofore made. They have done in one season what other contractors require from two to four seasons to complete. The work on the dam near Steubenville is almost completed.

M. E. CHURCH SOUTH.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE AT LOUISA NOV. 16-17

Practical Instruction Will be Given in All Kinds of Farm Subjects.

A movable school of agriculture or Farmers' Institute will be held at the court house, Louisa, Ky., Nov. 16th and 17th, by the State Department of Agriculture of Kentucky, Extension Department of College of Agriculture and the United States Department of Agriculture. The above institution have combined to avoid duplication of work and to give instruction in agriculture to the farmers of the State free of cost.

Practical instruction will be given in Fruit Growing, Soil Building, Grain Growing, Live Stock and Poultry, Raising, Home Economics, and in other farm subjects. Both men and women are cordially invited to attend. The State Board of Agriculture deems the above arrangement an advancement along agricultural lines and feels the County Farmers' Institute will be given a broader field of usefulness by this co-operative work.

Concerning the coming Institute Commissioner of Agriculture Newman writes as follows:

"We have a good strong lecture force in the field composed of Messrs. W. H. Clayton, J. T. Adair, H. B. Hendrick and Miss Mary Sweeney, and we think they will present a program which will be well worth while for you to attend."

Dr. Fred Mutchler, State Agent Demonstration Work, will be here on Nov. 17th with the expectation of organizing a Strawberry Growers' Association, and locate and put in motion the necessary means for starting a Fruit Experiment Station. He will doubtless be accompanied by Prof. Cornsby, whom we are always pleased to have with us. Mr. Cornsby is the acknowledged authority on fruit and the garden. He knows much of horticulture, and imparts information with precision and dispatch.

Concerning the coming Institute the NEWS will here make the further announcement that on the evening of Friday, Nov. 13th, Mr. T. B. Stokes, the Boy's Life Club man, of the Agricultural Department, will give a lecture in one of the rooms at the college building on the subject of Pig Clubs. To this address he invites the presence of the school teachers and the boys of the county, promising to entertain and instruct all who may go. He hopes to be able to attend the Farmers' Institute and will take part in that meeting. Lawrence is one of the twelve counties in the State which may get the services of Mr. Stokes, but something must be done to show that he is wanted in our county if we get him.

The coming Institute should be the best in all respects the county ever had. Let us try to make it so.

CHEROKEE.

In the past few weeks I met with some cases of black leg. Black leg is a most virulent, rapidly fatal, infectious disease of cattle. All young cattle that have begun to fatten for themselves are most susceptible to the disease. Sheep and goats may also contract the disease, but horses, hogs, dogs, fowls and man are immune.

The name of the disease describes it fairly well. If we take all the symptoms and effects into consideration, Black leg is a disease peculiar to young cattle and should not be confounded with anthrax, which attacks horses, mules, sheep, goats and man. The symptoms of black leg are characteristic and easily recognized by the careful observer. They begin from one to three days after infection has taken place, with loss of appetite and of rumination, with dullness and debility and high fever. Lameness or stiffness of one or more limbs due to the most important symptoms is the swelling under the skin located on the thighs, the shoulders, the neck, tank. At first small, the swelling spreads rapidly in extent and depth, and in the first stages is very painful. When struck or handled, a peculiar crackling sound is heard under the skin, due to a collection of gas formed by the germs as they multiply.

There is no doubt but what black leg is caused by a specific bacillus which gains entrance to the tissues and muscles through wounds and abrasions principally of the skin, sometimes by the mouth, tongue and throat. Slight wounds caused by stubble, barbed wire, thorns, briars, sharp or pointed parts of food.

By this it will be seen that black leg is a germ disease of the most pronounced type. The germs get into the tissues and multiply with great rapidity, and germs soon produce millions. Animals thus infected nearly always die within one to three days. When death comes the body of the victim should be promptly burned, or buried deep and covered with lime, to prevent the spread of infection, which is conveyed by animals or birds who eat the carcasses; by the feet of animals or man who tread about infected places, or by the animals themselves when infected and still living. Therefore, burning the dead is much to be preferred, as a protection to the surviving animals.

I hope the people will consider this as a business proposition.

BECKHAM AND CAMDEN WIN Majority of 30,000 for Democratic United States Senators.--Fields Wins by Large Majority.

Kentucky went Democratic last Tuesday by about 30,000. The majorities of Beckham and Camden for the long and short terms in the Senate will reach about that figure. It is a great victory.

The Congressional delegation remains the same—nine Democrats and two Republicans. Powers and Langley are re-elected by majorities somewhat reduced.

Fields won in the Ninth district by something like 3000.

Louisville and Jefferson county gave Beckham 12,212 plurality over Wilson, who was claiming that he would carry it by about that amount.

Beckham Carried Ninth District.

According to R. H. Vansant, chairman of the State Democratic Committee, Beckham carried the Ninth district by over 3100. The unofficial returns are as follows:

Beckham—Lawrence 100, Elliott 500, Morgan 765, Brantlett 748, Wolfe 400, Menflee 300, Montgomery 235, Rath 250, Nichols 641, Harrison 925, Fleming 171, Bracken 311, Robertson 241. Wilson—Mason 20, Lewis 875, Boyd 450, Greenup 200, Carter 500, Rowan 30. Fields, for Congress, ran between 300 and 500 ahead of Beckham.

Wayne County Goes Democratic.

In Wayne county, W. Va., the entire Democratic ticket was elected by varying majorities. County Clerk S. J. Crum, County Commissioner, C. M. Friley, Supt. of Schools, D. J. Huff, Pres. Board of Education, R. K. Hays, Commissioner Board of Education, J. D. Wilson, House of Delegates, B. J. Priehard and L. G. Sanson, Circuit Clerk, C. E. Walker.

The Democrats gain a Congressional seat in West Virginia. Ayler, Republican, losing to Littlepage, Democrat, Third district.

Wets Carried Ironton.

Home Rule carried in Ironton by 57 votes and Prohibition lost by 129. Lawrence county, Ohio, gave Prohibition a majority of 1300, and voted against Home Rule by 1400 majority.

Uncle Joe Came Back.

The returns indicate that Uncle Joe Cannon will have a plurality of 1200 in Hamilton county, Illinois, returning to Congress from the 18th district.

OFFICER SHOTS BOY.

John Walker, 15, of Greenup, was shot and seriously wounded in the chest at Silver Grove, Ky., by a patrol agent of the road. Walker, it was said, was found prowling in the woods at. when he started to run was shot by the agent. He was taken to hospital in Cincinnati, where it was said he sustained a wound in the left arm and one in the chest. His condition is serious.

D. T. & I. CO. ANNOUNCES ASHLAND AS RATE POINT.

The D. T. & I. Company announces that after November 16th, Ashland, Ky. will be made the Southern terminal of this road, arrangements having been made for the use of the transfer in the south side of Ironton. After this date Ashland will be named as a rate point in all the D. T. & I. cards.

Well posted railroad men in Ashland and eastern Kentucky say this is a certain indication that the Ohio river is to be bridged at this point in the very near future as the D. T. & I. company will certainly seek a junction with the C. C. & O. road which is to parallel the Big Sandy river through the coal fields of Eastern Kentucky and West Virginia. The proposition to build the C. C. & O. has been under consideration for a long time and it is believed that active steps towards this end will be taken in the very near future.

HANDCUFFED TO PRISONER.

Louis Maynard, a deputy sheriff of Mingo county, handcuffed to Adam Harmon, who had been arrested in Louisa on a charge of shooting with intent to kill, were taken in charge in Ashland and locked up on a charge of intoxication.

After a search the sheriff, who had accompanied the prisoner and deputy to Ashland, was found, but he could not locate the key to the handcuffs, and it was necessary to take them to a machine shop to file off the handcuffs.

The sheriff later found the key in one of his pockets. Independent.

CARD OF THANKS.

Culbertson, Boyd county. Since the death of my dear husband I have been living among my friends and I have come back to my lonely home for the winter. I feel very thankful to my relatives and friends for their kindness to me and most of all I thank God for his care and love to me.

MRS. M. D. L. BURNS.

TO THE PEOPLE OF BLAINE AND VICINITY.

J. ISRAELSKY.

OYSTERS, CREAM AND CAKE.

The Young People's Missionary Society of the M. E. Church South will serve oysters, any style, in the sample room of the Brunswick hotel. Also, will have ice cream, cake and coffee. Serving will begin at 4 o'clock.

Human Churn

As the stomach is subjected to a peculiar churning movement by the muscular walls of the stomach—(See Dr. Pierce's Medical Advertiser, page 45). In the liver, kidneys and skin, the blood is purified of its waste materials—these organs act as human filters, leaving the blood pure and clear—unless liver, digestive tract and kidneys are clogged.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

is a stomach, liver and kidney tonic—by assisting the stomach to assimilate, the liver to filter, the kidneys to act—the poisons are removed, the red blood corpuscles are increased and one feels light, fresh and active instead of logy, dull and heavy. The "Discovery" stimulates the stomach, increases action of heart and arteries and is a most satisfactory alternative in blood-taint of any character. The refreshing influence of this extract of native medicinal plants has been favorably known for over forty years. Everywhere some neighbor can tell you of the good it has done.

Sold by all medicine dealers in liquid or tablet form; or send 50 one-cent stamps to Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and a trial box will be mailed you.

The test of Edison's latest invention, an electric battery for use in submarines, is progressing satisfactorily and may be adopted by the Navy Department.

MONDAY.

Turkey has definitely cast her lot with Austria and Germany and it Portugal is counted there are now eleven Powers at war, with prospects of Greece, Bulgaria and Roumania being drawn into the European struggle. The Ambassadors of Russia, Great Britain and France have received their passports and have, with Serbia, put the interests of their countries in the hands of Ambassador Morgenthau, of the United States. Turkish troops have crossed the Egyptian frontier, while the Turkish fleet continues to menace the Russian coast. The Mohammedan subjects of Great Britain and Russia appear to side with the Allies. British, French and Russian subjects have been hastily leaving Constantinople for several days.

All the Italian Cabinet Ministers who resigned their portfolios Saturday met in the presence of King Emmanuel yesterday to discuss the situation.

Official advices show that desperate fighting is going on at Tsing Tau between the British and Japanese warships and the strongly entrenched Germans.

The operations of the German army in Belgium have been made very difficult by the inundation of the Yser and Ypres canals by the destruction of sluices at Nieuwpoort.

Violent attacks of the Germans were repulsed on the Yser, and according to the French report, the Germans are pressing nearer Paris at Senons and claim to have captured many prisoners.

The Rockefeller foundation has determined to employ its immense resources for the relief of non-combatants in the countries at war and stands ready to give millions of dollars if necessary.

TUESDAY.

The Grand Vizier of Turkey has apologized on behalf of his Government for the warlike observations of the Turkish press in the Black Sea, but it is stated in London and Bordeaux dispatches that the Turks will leave to go very much further before the Powers of the Triple Entente will agree to resume friendly relations, and in this connection repatriation of the Black Sea and dismissal of all German officers in the Turkish army and navy are mentioned. The Ambassadors of France, Russia and Great Britain have left Constantinople. A report comes from Constantinople of the seizure of another Russian vessel, and also that Bulgaria had begun to mobilize her second line of troops.

The entire North Sea has been declared a military area and merchant vessels entering will be exposed to grave dangers. Between the North Sea and the Oslo the attacks of the Germans have become less violent, according to the French report.

By the release of the American tanker Phyllis, Great Britain has conceded the right of United States vessels carrying oil to land their cargoes in Danish ports.

The Federal grand jury in New York handed down indictments against twenty directors or former directors and the former general counsel of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, charging criminal violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

Commissioner of Agriculture Newman yesterday declared a quarantine against all cattle, sheep and hogs in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Pennsylvania and Michigan, and from noon Sunday

SEVERE PUNISHMENT

Of Mrs. Chappell, of Five Years' Standing, Relieved by Cardui.

Mt. Airy, N. C.—Mrs. Sarah M. Chappell, of this town, says: "I suffered for five years with womanly troubles, also stomach troubles, and my punishment was more than any one could tell."

I tried most every kind of medicine, but none did me any good. I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had not taken but about six bottles until I was almost cured. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together.

My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Several are now taking it. Do you, lady reader, suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly trouble, such as headache, backache, sideache, sleeplessness, and that everlastingly tired feeling?

If so, let us urge you to give Cardui a trial. We feel confident it will help you, just as it has a million other women in the past half century.

Begin taking Cardui to-day. You won't regret it. All druggists.

REMEMBER—ASTHMA AND HAY FEVER A GUARANTEED TREATMENT

"I have arranged with the Louisa Drug Store Co. that every sufferer from Asthma, Hay Fever or Bronchitis in Louisa can try my treatment entirely at my risk," Dr. Rudolph Schiffmann announces. He says: "I have a 50-cent package of my Asthmador, try it, and if it does not afford you immediate relief, or if you do not find at the best remedy you have ever used, take it back to the Louisa Drug Store Co. and they will return your money, cheerfully and without any question whatever. After seeing the grateful relief it has afforded in hundreds of cases, which had been considered incurable, and which had been given up in despair, I know what it will do. I am so sure that it will do the same with others that I am not afraid to guarantee it will relieve instantaneously. The druggists handling Asthmador will return your money if you say so. You are to be the sole judge and under the positive guarantee, absolutely no risk is run in buying Asthmador."

Persons living elsewhere will be supplied under the same guarantee by their local druggist or direct by Dr. R. Schiffmann, St. Paul, Minn.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

H. C. SULLIVAN FOR COMMONWEALTH'S ATTORNEY.
We are authorized to announce H. C. SULLIVAN, of Lawrence county, as a candidate for the nomination for Commonwealth's Attorney for the 32nd Judicial District, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

G. W. CASTLE FOR COMMONWEALTH'S ATTORNEY.
G. W. Castle, of Lawrence county, announces his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Commonwealth's Attorney for the 32nd Judicial District, primary election in August 1915, earnestly requesting the support of all Democrats of the district.

We are authorized to announce JOHN M. WAUGH as a candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney of the 32nd Judicial District, subject to the action of the Democratic party in the primary of August, 1915.

We are authorized to announce W. D. O'NEAL, JR., as a candidate for the nomination for Circuit Judge at the 32nd Judicial District, subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

We are authorized to announce JUDGE M. M. REDWINE as a candidate for Circuit Judge of the district composed of Lawrence, Elliott, Carter and Morgan counties, subject to the action of the Democrats in the primary election the first Saturday in August, 1915.

November A. M. dawned as fair as her sister, September Morn, but she needed a few more clothes.

It does not accord with the eternal fitness of things that in the local option election held in Kentucky Bourbon should vote "dry" and Christiana go "wet."

Hugger, Progressive candidate for Commissioner in Lawrence county, O., was defeated. He should have waited until the women of his State are allowed to vote.

The unprecedented landslide through out the United States two years ago made Congress overwhelmingly Democratic. Dozens of strong Republican districts elected Democrats, and there was no reason to hope for the performance to be repeated. It is always so after an upheaval. The people very largely settle back to their normal positions. The Democrats have done well in the election this week, under all the conditions. They have retained control of the lower house of Congress and have increased their majority in the Senate.

The European war has disturbed business conditions in this country very seriously and the opposing politicians have used the bad features of the situation for campaign material and a lot of voters have swallowed it, as usual.

President Wilson might have played politics and made a lot of votes, but he isn't that kind of a man. He went right along and did his duty, regardless of the possible effect on the voters at this election. He is willing to wait for the results of the laws later on.

OUCH! LUMBAGO PAIN! RUB BACKACHE AWAY

Instant Relief with a small trial bottle of old "St. Jacob's Oil."

Kidney's cause backache? Not! They have no nerves, therefore can not cause pain. Listen! Your backache is caused by lumbago, sciatica or a strain, and the quickest relief is a soothing, penetrating "St. Jacob's Oil." Rub it right on your painful back, and instantly the soreness, stiffness and lumbago disappears. Don't stay crippled! Get a small trial bottle of "St. Jacob's Oil" from your druggist and rub it up. A moment after it is applied you'll wonder what became of the backache or lumbago pain.

Rub old, honest "St. Jacob's Oil" wherever you have sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism or sprains, as it is absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

The Big Sandy News speaks very complimentary of Mr. Fred Blaine, who has opened a first class jewelry store in the Hopkins building, and whose announcement appears elsewhere in this issue. The Post extends him a hearty welcome.—Prestonsburg Post.

The Rev. A. M. Dial, of the Christian Church, has returned from Paintsville, where he held a successful meeting. He will fill his Louisa pulpit next Sunday.

An Interesting Letter From Our Neighboring County.

There is to be a Farmers' Institute held at the court house, this city, Nov. 6 and 7. There will be speakers here from the United States Agricultural Department and the program is to cover all branches of farming, as well as horticulture. Every farmer in Boyd county should be present. Many farmers reject the new-fangled ideas and you that do will be "sucking the hindmost tit" after a while. Be present every day; there is always something to learn, and a willing mind is an apt student.

A traffic arrangement between the Ashland Coal & Iron Railway Co. and the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton Railway Co., whereby freight cars passing over the latter road are to be ferried and switched into the freight depot and yards of the former road by the Ashland Coal & Iron Co., thus giving the shippers of Ashland and those south of the Ohio river a direct route north to the Great Lakes. This will prove a great help especially to our lumber mills.

The Fiscal Court appropriated $400 at their last meeting as part pay for the salary of an expert in farming, who will spend his whole time among our farmers and truckers and give aid and counsel upon the scientific principles of farming. Our farmers are probably more interested in stock growing than they are in wheat, corn and rye, still they may be able to improve their methods on this line.

Deputy Sheriff Riffe was pretty badly used up in a wire fence Thursday night in a chase after Henderson Stephenson for whom the deputy had a warrant. Wire fences or face wounds do not stop Estill Riffe on a chase like this. Stephenson is now out of jail under a $100 bond to answer at the next term of our criminal court.

Pearl Holt, of Bolts Fork, was here on a business mission Wednesday.

Stanhope Patton was able to be out on Wednesday to register.

Commonwealth's Attorney W. H. May and Sam Russell passed here on Wednesday going to Morgantown, where Attorney May will participate as counsel in a murder trial.

John Coleman and wife, of Regina, are stopping at the Fuller hotel.

Squire James Woods, one of Lawrence county's most prosperous farmers and stockmen, was here on business on Wednesday last.

Dr. John Belle Bartram, of Ashland, was called here on a professional visit Wednesday.

W. H. Music, the recently made benedict, was meeting his friends here this week.

Dr. Leon Fritchard, of Bolts Fork, seeing the necessity of conserving time, has purchased a Ford auto, and hereafter will use it in making calls to patients living on such roads as an auto can be moved over.

Isaac Fannin, a successful stockman of Culbertson, was here on Saturday. Mr. Fannin has treated himself to a sple and span new home. "Drink, eat and be merry for tomorrow ye may die" is Mr. Fannin's policy. Enjoy life while you live.

John Stanley, of Bolts Fork, was here on Saturday last.

Ed White, of Ellington's Bear creek, and whose mother was a daughter of Uncle Stephen Bradley, of Morgan's Creek and who has a host of relatives in Lawrence county, was here on Saturday en route to Ashland.

John Childers, of Condon, but who has for many years been employed in the Kanawha coal fields, is here to cast a vote for Beckham, Fields, etc. John, when election comes, is always "Johnnie on the spot" and is here.

Friday was a great day here among our educators. A big crowd and much enthusiasm. Speeches were delivered by Prof. H. H. Cherry, of Bowling Green, J. G. Crabbe, of Richmond, Attorney C. L. Williams, of this city, and many other local pedagogues. A lecture on agriculture was delivered by W. M. Martin, which was wholly out of place and unneeded. Our common school system does not provide for the teaching of agriculture, we have no textbooks for the guidance of our teachers and no provision for its teaching. The manner in which our State educational department recognizes the teaching of the one most important science of all others in the development of our nation's wealth and stability is a brazen insult to intelligent farming and to intelligent farmers.

Under our present school system a child may learn to read, write in Italian and to do some problems in mathematics and that is all that is good in it. There is not one youth in 100 who passes the common school branches who can properly draft a promissory note, prepare a deed of release or draw a commercial paper. In fact, there are precious few of our teachers who can draw a business paper, and then try to teach a woman how to plow; how to reap, or warn tobacco, send hogs, listen, where are we drifting? Probably this accounts for Kentucky being 17th as to money paid into her schools and 42nd as to proficiency. Where does this 25 per cent discrepancy belong? To whose door should it be laid? The State educational department, the trustee or the teacher. Taxpayers, investigate and be your own judge.

Ex-Sheriff Harve Salters, of Yatesville, was on our streets Saturday. We have a wholesale whiskeyhouse here that employs eleven young lady stenographers. And yet the county including West Virginia is dry.

Jaller Deboard reports 58 in jail. If the country was dry that would not be the case. Kentucky has 106 dry counties in the state and 120 wet ones. Don't you see!

Joe Ross, of East Ashland, made a trip through the East Fork valley Monday.

Judge R. R. Stanley, of Prestonsburg, is here on a few days' business mission.

Attorney C. D. Stephens, of Pikeville, is here en route to Greenup county.

The drop in the tube from 55 to 25 made us all shiver.

VIOLET

FALLING HAIR MEANS DANDRUFF IS ACTIVE

Save your hair! Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine right now.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is naive evidence of a neglected scalp, of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die, then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Be sure you get Dr. James' Headache Powders, then there will be no disappointment.

NOTICE.
All persons owing me for merchandise on account are hereby requested to settle same promptly on or before Dec. 1, 1914. After that date I will sell on a different plan. All systems of accounts have proven burdensome and profitless, as I have been in business only three years and now have on my books $1862.45. I sincerely thank those friends and customers who have always paid me promptly and will have a proposition that should appeal to all. M. M. BAKER, Cordell, Ky.

A WORD TO THE TRAPPERS AND HUNTERS

Don't kill the light fur animals till December. Then pelts will begin to be good. Then sell them to us; we are the largest dealers in Furs and Hides in Eastern Kentucky.

We only have 4 grades—No. 1, 2, 3, 4. Many houses have 12 grades.

We give 50 per cent more than any other dealer can get in bunch lots of $500 or more. We ship direct to London, and this makes our middle man profit. Write us for price list on furs. In fur season we gladly answer. Send your pelts by parcel post. We pay the expense. We return your money on the day we receive them.

We want veal calf hides, green, blue, 1, 15 pounds. No. 1 Horse Hides $4.00, No. 2, $3.50 to $2.50. We buy corn, we pay for hushel in groceries.

We pay for fat hiders, half cash and half store. We pay cash for eggs. We buy the coffee that grows high in top of the trees, when burnt and permeated of fever can't get it. We sell 5000 pounds every year of this good old reliable grandpa and grandma coffee. There are about 14 different grades of coffee. We buy the right kind. Write us a call. We give full weight and measure.

SEE IF THE CHILD'S TONGUE IS COATED

If cross, feverish, constipated, give "California Syrup of Figs."

Look at the tongue mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When feverish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, his stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the food, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of his little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful little again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative"; they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

BLOCKADED

Every Household in Louisa Should Know How to Resist It.

If your back aches because the kidneys are blocked.

You should help the kidneys with their work.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for weak kidneys.

Recommended by thousands—home testimony proves their merit.

J. B. Peters, Lock Ave., Louisa, says: "I was in bad shape with kidney trouble. After sitting for a few moments and attempting to get up, my back felt as if a heavy weight was tied to it. Sharp pains darted through my kidneys. After stooping, it was hard to straighten. Rheumatic pains seemed to shoot all through my body, particularly in my knees, hips and joints. I was languid and all run down when I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at the Louisa Drug Store. They cured me of the troubles. I have no hesitation in confirming my former endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Peters had. Foster-McMillan Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Churns, Jars, crocks, jugs, all sizes and styles, at Snyder Hardware store. Bought in car load lots. Prices low.

Their many Louisa friends hope they will visit here this winter.

ROSE BUD.

JEAN.

On Wednesday, Oct. 14th, another of our good citizens was called to his home on high without a moment's warning. Jessie Hicks, son of Jas. Hicks, of this place, was the victim.

He had been complaining some time with his heart and on this day said he felt much better and was out around the cane mill and probably helped his boys haul two loads of cane during the day and at night at supper thanked the Lord that he had been spared another day. After supper he complained of eating too much, and stepped out in the yard, walked back to the fire, sat down, and then walked backed out on the porch, staggered back to the bed and fell across it and was dead.

He leaves a wife and three children, one daughter grown and two boys, aged 14 and 16, other relatives and a host of friends to mourn their loss.

He was a hard-working man, honest and a christian, having confessed Christ just a short time ago.

He is badly missed by his many friends as well as by his christian family.

So let us try to live right. And meet him on that Golden Shore. Where we can always be with him. And enjoy his smiles evermore.

A FRIEND.

ANANIAS ELOPES

His Tale of Woe

By CLARISSA MACKIE

Ananias Sline had at last made up his mind. Of all the desirable widows and spinsters in Quince Harbor none seemed so attractive as Mrs. Em Bevis, who was the proprietor of the Quince Harbor dry goods store. If any one had remotely suggested to Ananias that the profitable little business had enhanced the charms of the Widow Bevis in his middle aged eyes he would have laughed one to scorn. Still, being half proprietor of a dry goods business was infinitely better than being porter in a village bank. Any one would admit that!

When he put the question to Mrs. Bevis it was no time and her two rosy cheeks had come home to dinner. Ananias had assured himself that they two were alone, and he had promptly possessed himself of the widow's generous hand and told her the story of his lonely life and his longing for a home, provided she would pre-arrange it.

"Oh, Ananias," she murmured, "I never dreamed I never thought—oh!" she shrieked as Ananias implanted a kiss on her work worn hand.

That evening Ananias called upon her and discussed their early marriage.

"There's only one obstacle to a fancy wedding," said Ananias when Em Bevis had outlined a plan for the ceremony to take place in the Baptist church, with her little niece as flower girl and white satin ribbons fastened from the tops of the pews.

"And that is?" asked Em in a disappointed tone.

"My landlady."

"Hetty Rowell? My land, you ain't engaged to her, be you?" inquired the widow sharply.

"Not if I know it," said Ananias cautiously, "but somehow I never know where I stand with Widow Rowell. Em! I swan I never proposed marriage to her in my life, but half the time she talks like she was engaged to me! I wish we could be married in a few days," added Ananias.

"But what's your hurry?" protested Em.

"I'd like a chance to make some wedding clothes and get ready!"

"I know it, my love," cooed Ananias in her ear, "but I am afraid of the Widow Rowell. Great blizzards, I am! I talk in my sleep, you know. What if she should hear me saying something about you? It would be all up in the air!"

By the time Ananias went home he had persuaded his fiancée that she could select a very presentable trousseau from the stock of her own department store; so, relieved of this momentous question, Em agreed to elope with Ananias on the following Thursday, and Ananias wrote a note to the Rev. Josiah Twigg apprising him of the coming event and asking him to consider the matter as entirely confidential.

That night Ananias let himself into his boarding place and tiptoed up to his room with unusual caution. One never knew when the Widow Rowell would potter out. And one never knew in what part of the house she was seeking a night's repose. She had a pleasantly careless custom of taking prospective guests through her spacious old house and permitting them to choose whatever room suited the moment's fancy, provided it was disengaged. As for herself, she slept around as fancy dictated—one night the west front chamber appealed to her, for she loved to hear the roar of the waves on the beach; the next night it might be a small hall room for the moment inexplicit that would tickle her restless impulse.

What Ananias did not know was that on this particular evening the widow had been approached by the proprietor of the Quince Harbor hotel and asked to accommodate a half dozen guests for whom he could find no room until the following day. Mrs. Rowell sweetly assented and gathered up her own belongings and carried them into a tiny room next to the room of Ananias Sline. Here she dropped her weary limbs upon a most uncomfortable cot and slept.

The sound of the softly closed front door aroused her. If that was Ananias Sline tiptoeing in at such a late hour she would have a serious talk with him in the morning. Either he had been courting—and that was not to be allowed, for Hetty Rowell felt that she had a prior right to the affections of Mr. Sline—or he had been to lodge meeting, and as it wasn't lodge night—why, he must have been courting! So there the widow's logical mind calculated the matter, as we know, quite correctly.

She dozed off to sleep again and awoke to the resounding snores of Mr. Sline in the next room.

"Dart him!" she muttered, turning over. But she could not sleep again. She got to thinking about Ananias and where he had spent the evening, and she decided that it was Em Bevis who had captured him.

She was convinced of it when Ananias came snoring and fell to talking, as was his habit when the day had been an exciting one.

"Ahem!" bellowed Ananias. "Ahem, next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock!"

"My dear Mr. Twigg, would you perform a most interesting service for me? Of course I shall wear a white flower in my coat—ahem! I'm not afraid—no, shree! I, Ananias, take thee, Em Bevis—no, that's not right, Em—Em—Emm—or Emmaline—ah!"

Mr. Sline resorted to snoring once more, and the widow, now thoroughly awake to the peridy of her star boarder, sat up in bed and fell to planning.

When the Widow Rowell fell to planning—well, things didn't happen.

For an entire week she watched and waited and listened and pecked and pried, and when Thursday evening drew around she was possessed in some mysterious manner of most of the details of the approaching elopement. She knew that Hetty Bevis's buggy had been engaged and that Hetty was to harness the sorrel horse, although Hetty Bevis herself didn't know what Ananias Sline wanted to do with a buggy.

By Thursday evening Ananias Sline was shivering with nervous dread. He had a feeling that in some way or other his elopement would be frustrated. Time and again he had found the Widow Rowell's wits could outmatch his own, but so far as he knew not a soul was aware of the approaching marriage save the prospective bride, the minister and himself.

Ananias ate scarcely any supper, although Mrs. Rowell had prepared his favorite dish of oyster stew. She sat opposite him and blinked her eyes at him until he gulped down a huge cup of scalding hot tea and bolted away from the table.

"Little dear!" murmured the widow with a strange smile on her face.

Ananias locked himself into his room and made an elaborate if hasty toilet. After many maneuvers he let himself out and managed to escape by the back hall door. There was no sign of the widow, and he hoped she had gone to call upon one of her cronies. It would be ill luck indeed if she had taken it into her head to call upon Em Bevis, though the two rivals were not the best of friends since Ananias came between them.

Still, the Widow Rowell was apt to do the most baffling things.

Ananias hurried to Hetty's stables and climbed into the buggy which a grinning negro had prepared for him. He drove rapidly out of the yard, nearly losing a wheel in the turn, for he was not a skillful driver.

Quince Harbor folks are inquisitive and prone to nudge each other's business to a most annoying degree; therefore it had been decided that Em Bevis was to wait for Ananias in Whippoorwill lane by the brook. He would catch her up into the vehicle, and away they would go to Big Harbor.

Whippoorwill lane was there, and so was Em Bevis, for Ananias recognized the white veil she was to wear about her uncovered head.

He pressed her hand and received a tender pressure in return. After that they rode in silence through the woods toward Big Harbor.

At last they reached the main street of Big Harbor, and the sorrel horse chose to gallop madly until Ananias, snatching at the reins, managed to bring him to a stop before the gate of the parsonage.

"Belay there!" yelled the little ex-saltator angrily just as the minister opened the front door and stepped into the porch to meet them.

The prospective bride got out unaided while Ananias was tying the sorrel horse and she was inside the house by the time Ananias had reached the gate.

When Ananias Sline reached the parlor, where stood the beaming clergyman and his smiling wife and a couple of servants for witnesses, he stood in the doorway agape at the sight that met his amazed eyes. The bride was there—a bride was there, indeed, but not the one he had so carefully chosen! Standing there in the modest splendor of a gray satin dress hurriedly gaudied with white lace and bunches of artificial orange blossoms was the Widow Rowell!

Em Bevis was nowhere to be seen.

Somewhat he had been tricked by the artful widow whom he had at first courted, only to leave when a better chance presented itself. Surely retribution was close upon the heels of Ananias Sline!

"We are waiting, Mr. Sline," remonstrated Mr. Twigg, smiling benevolently.

"Dear Ananias!" cooed Hetty Rowell, fixing her azure colored eyes upon him.

Ananias moved forward mechanically. There seemed nothing else to do. Things were hideously mixed and a bitter fate seemed to have driven him straight into the arms of the Widow Rowell. He felt that she had outwitted him again; never more would he try to get the best of her. He would admit defeat. As for Em Bevis, what could he do about it now without creating a scandal that would shake the three villages to the core?

Nothing!

So Ananias went forward and was joined in the bonds of holy matrimony to Hetty Rowell. When the ceremony was over Mrs. Twigg congratulated them warmly.

"It's the oddest thing," she babbled, "but Josiah and I really thought the bride we understood it to be—another. We are quite surprised!"

"So are we!" smiled Mrs. Ananias Sline as she took her husband's arm and went down to the waiting buggy and the impatient sorrel horse.

Somewhat pained an odd shoe after them for luck and it struck Ananias right in the back of the neck, so that he uttered an explosive blast of profanity that caused the minister and his wife to close their front door hurriedly.

But the Widow Rowell's main reason for Ananias Sline's misery smiled compassionately, as if she knew that her husband had just cause for exasperation.

Tricked Him.

It was pay day at the Consolidated Coal and Lumber works, and a mine worker was returning home with his monthly envelope. He met a bad man with a pistol, who demanded his wages. The worker handed the money over.

"Now," said he, "my wife will think that I've gambled or drunk. Won't you shoot a hole in my coat, so that I can prove that I was attacked and robbed?"

"Why, certainly so," answered the robber.

The worker held out his coattail while the other punctured it with a bullet.

"Another," begged the worker, and the other fired again.

"Another," and there was another hole in the garment, another and still another.

"That's all the cartridges I've got," said the robber.

"All the cartridges you've got?" said the worker, picking up a rock. "Then give back that money. Hand over your pistol and whatever else you happen to have." National Monthly.

Whistler and a Supper.

There frequently hard up. Whistler had an income which seemed precisely to students who lived on nothing at all. If Whistler had money in his pockets Mr. Doubles says he spent it royally on others. If his pockets were empty he managed to tell them in a way that still amazes M. Ophovey, who in proof of it told us of the night when, after the date where they had squandered their last sou on kirsch had closed he and Lambert and Whistler adjourned to the Hides for supper, ordered the best and ate it. "Then he and I went to the restaurant and sat at a table," said Whistler, at dawn went off to find money to pay. He was so k when they awoke with 200 or 300 francs in his pocket. He had been to see an American friend he said a painter. "And do you know he had the bed in order to abuse the situation he insisted on my looking at his pictures." "The Life of James Mac-Nail Whistler," by E. R. and J. Pennell.

Methuselah Practiced It.

Says Ben Hur: I am in my little essay "On the Art of Preserving Fleas and Bees."

"It is recorded that Methuselah, who being the oldest living man, is supposed to have preserved his health, that he slept always in the open air, for when he had lived 500 years an angel said to him, Arise, Methuselah, and build thee an house, for thou shalt live 500 years longer. But Methuselah answered and said: 'If I am to live 500 years longer, it is not worth while to build me an house. I will sleep in the air, as I have been used to do.'"

This dialogue is not reported in the fifth chapter of Genesis, to be sure, but it is reproduced here out of respect to Franklin as evidence that outdoor sleeping is so good, but a wise return to the manners of our ancestors. Harper's Weekly.

Profit in Arresting Deserters.

"The members of the police department are continually on the watch for deserters from the army or navy," explained the man about town. "The reason is that the government pays a price of $25 upon the deserter's head. Of course police-men are anxious to gain the reward and are on the watch. 'The Bowyer is the district most frequented by deserters, and that is the first place in the city where search is made for them. A score of deserters are picked up along this thoroughfare every year.'"

"Before a member of the police department can reap the reward for catching a deserter his claim must be approved by the commissioner. Even then he does not draw the entire amount, for the usual deduction for the police pension fund is made." New York Sun.

An Arab View of New York.

An Arab who visited New York city is said to have sent this letter home: "People in America travel like rats under the ground (meaning the subway), and like sparrows in the air (meaning the elevated railways), and the buildings are so high that people have to be put in square boxes and pulled to the top by heavy ropes (meaning the elevator). In the day the sun furnishes the light the same as in Morocco. At night the light is so strong as the day, but people here do not seem to have much use for sleep, as the streets are just as crowded at night as in the day." Outlook.

Misfit Tails.

It was Robert's first visit to the zoo. "What do you think of the animals?" inquired Uncle Ben.

After a critical inspection of the exhibit the boy replied:

"I think the kangaroo and the elephant should change tails." Youngstown Telegram.

Secrets.

A man can keep the secret of another better than his own. A woman, on the contrary, keeps her own better than that of another. La Bruyere.

A Pen Picture of Lincoln.

And now Abraham Lincoln rose from his seat, stretched his long, bony limbs upward as if to get them into working order, and stood like some solitary pine on a lonely summit, very tall, very dark, very gaunt and very rugged, his swarthy features stamped with a sad severity, and the instant he began to speak the ungaily mouth lost its heaviness, the half-lidded eyes attained wondrous power and the people stood bewildered and breathless under the natural magic of the strangest, most original personality known to the English speaking world since Robert Burns.

There were other very tall and dark men in the heterogeneous assembly, but not one who resembled the speaker. Every movement of his long, muscular frame denoted inexhaustible earnestness, and a something issued forth, elemental and mystical, that told what the man had been, what he was and what he would do in the future. From "The Valley of Shadows," by Francis Grierson.

Measuring Light Speed.

Even in this speed man and we can never hope to equal the speed of light, which the scientists tell us is 186,000 miles a second. If light could not as easily be measured as one would have thought.

There is a delicate instrument used in measuring light which throws a beam of light upon a revolving disk. There was some doubt about the figures obtained in this way until it was found that when the earth was in the part of its orbit nearest to Jupiter a flash took place sixteen minutes earlier than when it was in the farthest part, whereas by all rules of astronomy they should have taken place at the same minute each time. It is deduced from this that the light was not instantaneous and consequently took sixteen minutes to traverse the diameter of the earth's orbit, a distance of about 20,000,000 miles, thus giving to light a velocity of 186,000 miles a second, which was accurately shown later by other experiments. Exchange.

The Taste For Salt.

Concerning the African craving for salt, Livestock gives an interesting testimony. Only the rich among black people could afford to buy it, and the poor suffered from indigestion for lack of it. Native doctors accordingly made salt a usual ingredient of their medicine, and this has successfully cured suffering, respectively of meat salt. But now comes a notable point. "El" that alk or meat had the same effect, though not so rapidly, as salt. Long afterward, when I was myself deeply out of salt for four months at two diet periods, I felt no desire for that food, but I was plagued by very great longing for the alketic articles of food. This continued as long as I was confined to an exclusively vegetable diet, and when I procured a meal of fresh, though larded in perfectly fresh rain water it tasted as pleasantly saltish as if slightly impregnated with that condiment." London Standard.

Scar of Art Theft.

There is a picture at Hampton court which bears witness to a theft that may be termed petulant. This is Holbein's "Field of the Cloth of Gold," which after the downfall of Charles I. Cromwell proposed to sell. But when the would be purchaser came to inspect it he discovered that the head of Henry VIII had been cut from the canvas. He refused to buy the picture and it was preserved to the nation. At the restoration a nobleman confessed to having committed the crime for "love of art and country." He returned the missing head, which now occupies its original position, the scar made by the knife in the canvas being still plainly visible. London Chronicle.

A Regiment of Wrestlers.

Captain Holmes, a famous athlete in the Indian army, raised one of the finest regiments in the British service by the sporting method of challenging all and sundry to wrestle. These worsted were to enlist, and in a short time the gallant captain was able to show a collection of wrestling prizes that were a credit alike to himself and the army. London Opinion.

Durability of Radium.

Radium once extracted from the ores becomes available for continued use without appreciable loss and becomes a permanent addition to the needed supply. The same radium that is placed at humanity's service today may be used by our children for many generations.

"There never was a woman who did not gab about her neighbors," growled Mr. Gabb.

"Oh, yes, there was!" replied Mrs. Gabb.

"That's right," commented Mr. Gabb.

"I forgot about Eve's—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Tangible Asset.

"I believe I'll promote a transportation company."

"Land or water?"

"The latter, I think. For the former I'll need rats and light of way, but in a water proposition I'll have an ocean to start with." Exchange.

Use "Gets-It," Corns Shrivels, Vanish!

It's the New Way, and You'll Forget You Ever Had Corns.

"3 drops put on in 2 seconds, corn shrivels, comes clean off!" That's the marvelous story of "GETS-IT," the new-plan corn cure. Nothing can be simpler for the cure of corns—and it never fails. That's why millions of people are using "GETS-IT" today and throwing away their fussy plasters, sticky tapes, toe-cutting knives, and "wrapping outfits" that make a bundle around the toe and choke it into pain by pressing either on or around the corn. There is nothing to stick to your skin, nothing to cause inflammation or rawness, nothing to press on or around the corn. You apply it in 2 seconds. No more knives, razors, scissors or files, with their blood-polluted dangers. Try "GETS-IT" for that corn, callus, wart or bunion.

No Corns to Bump! No Pain, If You Use "GETS-IT."

"GETS-IT" is sold by druggists everywhere. 25¢ a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago. "GETS-IT" is sold in Louisa by LOUISA DRUG COMPANY and J. H. REYNOLDS.

THE HOME CIRCLE AND ITS INTERESTS.

Column Dedicated to Tired Mothers as They Join The Home Circle at Evening Tide.

Own Your Home.

No man who has the opportunity should fail to acquire title to the property in which he is to reside. Until one owns his own home, his life is not as complete as it should be.

Even if a man must go in debt to secure his home, it is the thing for him to do. Paying for a home is as good a game as one can engage in, and the difficulties attending it but lend zest to the struggle. Those who enter the lists almost invariably come out better for the effort.

Really, the chances taken are not formidable. In almost any city, purchase of real estate at a fair valuation is a good business investment. Land values are going up all the while and they will continue to go up for years, in cities like ours with desirable influence and every advantage as a residence city, there is not even the possibility of a reversal.

If there did not exist the counter-argument in favor of owning one's home, there would be plenty of other reasons for recommending it. Some one has remarked that it is like teaching the stork of pincushion. When one requires a home he has something worth living for. Nothing for it makes him a better citizen and a better member of society. It gives him a solid, abiding interest in the great organization known as government.

And while it increases a man's sense of obligation to society and his country, it gives him a new sort of freedom. In his own home a man feels at liberty to do things he does not feel like doing in the homes of others. He expands and develops his energy. Perhaps he establishes a talent for music. Perhaps he makes a garden and satisfies an inherent longing to dig and plant. He may never become an inventor or a successful grower of plant life, but he can have the fun and satisfaction of trying without feeling that he is imposing on someone else. If he wants to have a work-bench in the cellar or tear up the lawn for his experiments in gardening, it is his own business.

It costs money to keep up a home, but what of it? It costs money to enjoy any of the pleasures of this life, and there is nothing that gives so big a return for the expenditure as does an abode wherein one can exercise his own will. No other possession he may acquire ever means quite so much to a man as does this first home.

There is no unclouded mill which takes in bays and turns out men. What you call "the chance" may be your only chance. Don't wait for your place to be made for you, make it yourself. Don't wait for somebody to give you a lift yourself. Henry Ward Beecher did not wait for a call to a large church with a big salary. He accepted the first parsonage offered him, in a little town near Cincinnati. He became literally the light of the church, he trimmed the lamps, kindled the fires, swept the rooms, and rang the bell. His salary was only about $200 a year but he knew that a free church and a great salary cannot make a great man. It was work and opportunity that he wanted. He felt that if there was anything in him, work would bring it out.

The average boy of today who wishes to obtain a liberal education has a better chance by a hundred fold than had Daniel Webster or James A. Garfield. There is scarcely one in a hundred who reads these lines but who is assured that if he will be busy there are elsewhere the will be usually that the way and never better than there so many avenues of resource open to the strong will, the untold purpose as there are today.

The three most difficult things to do are to keep a secret, to keep an integrity, and make good use of leisure.

Spare Moments.

What do you do with your spare moments? Do you use them to better yourself, or do you use them for a good time? You have intuition, every intelligent person has. Why not use it to show the world what you can do? Are you waiting for something to turn up that will give you promotion? That is a mighty uncertainty. You may be waiting thirty years from now for something to turn up and your best days are past. Then what will you do when you realize your life has been a failure? When you go down the street back around and you can see examples of people who have been waiting for something to turn up. Ask them and they will tell you where they made their mistakes.

Make use of your spare moments by training yourself for a better position. Make your own opportunities. Show the business world you are a live one, then they will receive you with open arms.

Make something out of yourself. Make up your mind at once. Take one moment now, and sum up the number of hours you are actually wasting each day. Many of our most prominent men of this country have won their distinction by making use of their spare moments.

Suffered Twenty-One Years-- Finally Found Relief

Having suffered for twenty-one years with a pain in his side, I finally have found relief in Dr. King's Swamp-Root. Injections of morphine were my only relief for short periods of time, I became so sick that I had to undergo a surgical operation in New Orleans, which benefited me for two years. When the same pain came back one day I was so sick that I gave up hopes of living. A friend advised me to try your Swamp-Root and I at once commenced using it. The first bottle did me so much good that I purchased two more bottles. I am now on my second bottle and am feeling like a new man. I passed a gravel stone as large as a big red bean and several small ones. I have not had the least feeling of pain since taking your Swamp-Root and I feel it my duty to recommend this great medicine to all suffering humanity. Gratefully yours,

MRS. JOSEPH C. CONSTANCE, Rapid City, S. D. Personally appeared before me, this 15th day of July, 1911, Mrs. Joseph Constance, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact. Wm. Morrow, Notary Public.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

By virtue of execution No. 2040, which issued from the office of the Lawrence Circuit Court, in favor of Dixon, Moore & Company vs. Wm. Brannard and Martha Roberts, administratrix of the estate of W. V. Roberts, deceased, for the sum of $409.93, with interest thereon from the 1st day of April, 1912; and also the sum of $9.20, costs, I, one of my deputies, will on the 16th day of November, 1914, offer for sale at the front door of the court house in Louisa, Lawrence county, Ky., the following described real estate, or so much thereof as will be necessary to satisfy the amount of the execution now in my hands, as above referred to, and all costs of this sale:

A certain tract of land situated on the waters of Cat Creek in Big Blaine creek in Lawrence county, Ky., containing 63 acres, more or less, and the same land conveyed to Wm. Brannard, on the 8th day of June, 1901, by W. O. Hampton, administrator of the estate of E. D. Geiger, deceased, and his widow, Esther Geiger, said deed is of record in Book 35, page 345, of the Lawrence County Court Records.

Said tract, however, situated in the town of Louisa, Lawrence county, Kentucky, and in the Central Addition to the city of Louisa, on Lock Avenue, and is a portion of what is known as the John J. Jordan property, and adjoining the property of Frank Brown on the south, fronting on Lock Avenue. Said lot is about 36 x 120, and now occupied by Dr. Ira Wellman. Said property to be sold on a credit of six months to the highest and best bidder, purchaser will be required to give bond, with approved security, having the force and effect of a receipt in hand, with lien retained upon said property to secure the payment of said bid.

Said lot is levied upon as the property of Martha Roberts, administratrix of W. V. Roberts, deceased.

The sixty-three (63) acre tract of land, above referred to, is levied upon as the property of Wm. Brannard.

Given under my hand this 19th day of October, 1914.

R. A. STONE, Sheriff Lawrence County, Ky.

FARMS FOR SALE.

OUR PURCHASE OF 7,000 ACRES AT A FORCED SALE.

of rich, rolling land in Scioto county, Ohio, one of the richest counties in the State, has made it possible for you to be a farm owner, at one-half cost per acre of any other like property in West Virginia, Ohio or Kentucky.

HOW OUR LANDS ARE DIVIDED.

For five months we have had engineers dividing up our 7,000 acres of land. Our tract comprising approximately 1,000 acres—a very fine stock farm—and the balance is cut into tracts of as near 40 acres each as possible.

SOME of the MANY ADVANTAGES IN THIS NEIGHBORHOOD.

Good Neighbors:—Every farm surrounding the property is highly improved, with good homes and barns, and the owners are kind, courteous, and neighborly.

Good Schools:—No child under the law is required to walk over 1½ miles. If school is farther away the School Board must provide teams to haul the children to school.

Good Churches:—Of different denominations, located not farther than two miles from any part of our property.

Fine Roads:—Well macadamized and on good grades. Fourteen miles from Bloom Switch to the paved streets of Portsmouth, O., over a fine state pike.

Two Railroads:—Baltimore & Ohio Railway and Detroit, Toledo & Iron-ore Railway run through the property. No farms further than 2 miles from a railway station.

Brick, Coal and Limestone:—Brick-yards, coal and limestone operations adjoining this property offer you employment close home during the idle farm season. Ask about the coal and limestone on this property.

Grasses:—The soil is impregnated with lime and grass takes naturally, especially blue grass.

Commercial Creamery:—You can sell all of your milk to the Oak Hill Creamery every morning provided you deliver it at the railway station, and you will get your check every two weeks.

Fruit Raisings:—The Horticultural Department of the Agricultural College of the State of Ohio asserts that Scioto and Lawrence counties are the two best adapted counties in the state for apple raising. Ohio is the home of the Rome Beauty Apple.

SOME FACTS ABOUT OUR 1,000 ACRES STOCK FARM.

A CHOICE FARM FOR SALE.

For the next 90 days I will sell my farm, suitable for corn, wheat, oats, hay, tobacco, and in fact anything that will grow in Central Kentucky. A splendid stock farm, watered with a large spring near the residence, good water for all purposes. Fenced so stock can come from all parts of the farm to water. Two residences, two barns, corn crib, wagon shed, buggy house, grainery and wood house; also meat house, stone cellar, and a good barn house. The best fenced farm in this part of Kentucky, with some nice timber, a splendid apple orchard of select fruit. Located on good road 1½ miles from good graded school, with term of nine months a year. Stores, church and shipping point, good neighborhood, good sale for anything that can be raised. For health there is no place that can beat this location.

Own a farm and be independent. Buy direct from owner and save large commission. This farm has 110 acres nice land to work over, not a particle of waste land. For price and full particulars write me. Any correspondence answered cheerfully. (55-pd-10-16) J. M. REYNOLDS, Wayneburg, Ky., R. F. D. No. 3.

FOR SALE, ONE HUNDRED GOOD FARMS IN OHIO.

Good roads, good soil, good markets, good schools, good churches, no negroes, and on and near the new C. & O. railroad that is to be built through here in the next two years. The survey runs over a number of the farms, and prices will go up and double in the next two years. Now if you want to buy and are ready to buy come at once. I have the goods and can suit any man. I have a number of fine stock farms for sale from 150 acres to 300 acres, priced from $6,000 to $12,500, well improved and well watered. So many people have fooled me lately; I drove to the station August 25 through the rain to meet a man from West Virginia and he never came. I met the train early or shine. Then some have come as late as 10. I want buyers and men that mean business. The titles to these farms are genuine and there are some of the best investments in land here ever offered. I have been dealing in land for ten years and I should be able to know a deal by this time when I see it. Write me and describe what you want and what you want to pay for it; then when you say meet me, be sure and come for I will be there. I live 7 miles from the station and will meet the train you say you will be on. Always come on No. 15 on the N. & W. Ry. That gives us more time. Agents wanted in Johnson, Pike, Floyd and Martin counties, also in Boyd county. Will pay any man in these counties one-third of the commission on any farm he may send me a buyer for. Always write me three days before you start, so I can meet you. FRED B. LYNCH, R. D. No. 1, SCIOTOVILLE, OHIO.
